THE COLONIAL

The feature at the Colonial today is County Twenty. The daughter of the aid laborer has an ungovernable temp. er. When he dies suddenly, she is adopted by the contractor for whom her father worked, and is, given a place in the office. In her new home she is permitted to indulge in tantrums. "Whenever you feel angry, count twenty times before speaking," is the good advice of her foster mothers and by constant application of it er, and by constant application of it she begins to get the better of her temper. The contractor's foreman tries to make love to her and is rebuffed. He becomes angry and she gives him a slip of paper on which she has swiftly typed a message. It is: "When angry, count twenty before you speak." The contractor's son in-terferes as the foreman again approaches the girl, and bad blood is ingendered.

The bank messenger brings the payroll, and the young man places the money in the safe to which enly he and his father hold the combination. His love for the girl leads him to tell are the combination, and the foreman listening behind a door, copies the ligures on the first piece of paper he can fish out of his pocket. It is the girl's typewritten message. To cast suspicion on his rival, the foreman enrages two rockmen to burglarize the safe. They leave the paper on the loor, where it is found by the girl fifter the contractor has suspected his ion of theft. She goes to the foreman ind recovers the money, which she blaces where it will seem to have been iver looked. The foreman sends his ifrelings to kidnap his rival, and the tockmen places their prisoner in an ampty house. The girl heartbroken by ier lover's accusation that she took he money, leaves her foster parents and returns to her father's home—the impty house. She discovers her lover bound, and sets him free. Together hey go for the sheriff, and the conpirators are rounded up.

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice that anyone in this world can give is to get a prescription that many physicians are now prescribing.

Ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it dissolves goltre and wens and causes them to disappear.
